Introduction

The European Landscape Convention was adopted in Florence (Italy) on 20 October 2000 and came into force on 1 March 2004, with the aim of promoting European landscape protection, management and planning and organising European co-operation in this area. The Convention is the first international treaty to be exclusively concerned with all aspects of European landscape. It applies to the entire territory of the Parties and covers natural, rural, urban and peri-urban areas. It concerns landscapes that might be considered outstanding as well as everyday or blighted landscapes.

The Convention represents an important contribution to the implementation of the Council of Europe's objectives, namely to promote democracy, human rights and the rule of law and to seek common solutions to the main problems facing European society today. By taking into account landscape, cultural and natural values, the Council of Europe seeks to protect the quality of life and well-being of Europeans.

As of 25 May 2009, 30 out of 47 member states of the Council of Europe had ratified the Convention: Armenia, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Finland, France, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Moldova, Montenegro, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, San Marino, Slovak Republic, Slovenia, Spain, "the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia", Turkey, Ukraine, United Kingdom. Six states had signed but not ratified it: Azerbaijan, Greece, Malta, Serbia, Sweden and Switzerland.

The Council of Europe's Meetings of the Workshops for the implementation of the European Landscape Convention have been organised on a regular basis since 2002. The meetings take a detailed look at various practical aspects of the Convention. They are a genuine forum for sharing practice and ideas and also provide an opportunity to present new concepts and achievements in relation to the Convention. Special emphasis is given to the experience of the state hosting the meeting. Seven Meetings of the Workshops for the implementation of the European Landscape Convention have been held so far on the following topics:

- "Landscape policies: contribution to the well-being of European citizens and to sustainable development – social, economic, cultural and ecological approaches; landscape identification, qualification and quality objectives, using cultural and natural resources; awareness-raising, training and education; innovative tools for the protection, management and planning of landscape; landscape award" (Strasbourg, France, 23-24 May 2002);
- "Integration of landscapes in international policies and programmes and transfrontier landscapes; landscapes and individual and social well-being; spatial planning and landscape" Cork (Ireland) (Strasbourg, France, 27- 28 November 2003);
- "Landscapes for urban, suburban and peri-urban areas" (Cork, Ireland, 16-17 June 2005);
- "Landscape and society" (Ljubljana, Slovenia, 11- 12 May 2006);
- "Landscape quality objectives: from theory to practice" (Girona, Spain, 28-29 September 2006);
- "Landscape and rural heritage" (Sibiu, Romania, 20-21 September 2007);
- "Landscape in planning policies and governance: towards integrated spatial management" (Piestany, Slovakia, 24-25 April 2008).

Organisers

The Council of Europe (www.coe.int/europeanlandscapeconvention) wishes to thank the Swedish National Heritage Board (www.raa.se) and the following organisers for their co-operation and support in hosting the Workshops and related events: Region Skåne (www.skane.se), City of Malmö (www.malmo.se), Municipality of Lomma (www.lomma.se), Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences (www.slu.se), Federation of Swedish Farmers (www.lrf.se), Swedish Environmental Protection Agency (www.naturvardsverket.se), Swedish Road Administration (www.vv.se/english), Swedish Board of Agriculture (www.sjv.se), Environmental Objectives Council (www.miljomal.nu), Swedish Forest Agency (www.skogsstyrelsen.se) and more to come. The meeting has also supported by the Swiss Federal Office of the Environment, Forestry and Landscape.

The aim of the Meeting of the Workshops

In order to achieve strong, forward looking policies, strategies and effective measures for landscape governance, there is a need to explore and to understand the forces of landscape transformation. These issues are highly relevant to the implementation of the entire European Landscape Convention and especially to the implementation of articles 5d and 6A and 6C (section 1a ii).

Article 5d: “each party undertakes to integrate landscape into its regional and town planning policies and in its cultural, environmental, agricultural, social and economic policies, as well as in any other policies with possible direct or indirect impact on landscape”;

Article 6: “Each Party undertakes to increase awareness among the civil society, private organisations, and public authorities of the value of landscapes, their role and changes to them”, “With the active participation of the interested parties, as stipulated in Article 5.c, and with a view to improving knowledge of its landscapes, each Party undertakes: to identify its own landscapes throughout its territory”.

The chosen theme of the Meeting, “Landscape and driving forces”, provides a framework to jointly discuss current developments in the field of climate changes, globalisation of spaces, social transformations, shifts in production systems, consumption patterns as well as their meaning and impact on landscape in an international context. The resulting transformation of landscape lays out a new field of activity for designing adequate policies and measures. The structure of the meeting aims to combine and exchange insights, perspectives, practical and theoretical approaches from the European, national, regional and local levels.

The Meeting will focus on a range of burning issues facing Europe in the next decades in order to relate these to landscape governance. This includes such challenges as the introduction of new energy systems and energy saving measures, as well as the possibility of energy shortages, demographic transformations and the rise of global prices for food, land and raw material. Another topic worthy of discussion is the question of how ecological values and quality norms can be reconciled with free market developments.

The Meeting will provide an opportunity to share experiences by examining both good and bad practices in the integrated approach to landscape and its governance. It will try to strengthen the landscape’s agenda among the key players and stakeholders involving landscape’s protection, management and planning. Last but not least, the workshops will be an opportunity to present Swedish practices and approaches to international landscape’s specialists as well as to encourage the national Swedish public debate on the impact of “driving forces” on the Swedish landscape.

All information needed about the Meeting, hotels, transport to and from the workshops, study visits, etc. can be found on www.raa.se/landscapeanddrivingforces.

Venue

The Meeting will be hold at the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences which is situated 10 km from Malmö, the capital of the Region of Scania (Skåne) in Sweden.

We recommend that the participants stay at hotels in Malmö. Transport to and from the venue will be provided by the organizers – the meeting point for the buses to the Meeting is the Big Square (Stortorget) in Malmö.

Information on the Swedish National Heritage Board and partners

Swedish National Heritage Board

Swedish National Heritage Board is the agency of the Swedish government that is responsible for heritage and historic environment issues. Its mission is to play a proactive, coordinating role in heritage promotion efforts and to ensure that the historic environment is preserved in the most effective possible manner.

One of the Swedish National Heritage Board primary tasks is to empower heritage as a force in the evolution of a democratic, sustainable society. At the core of this is the vision of a heritage that is accessible, useful and vital for people everywhere. The Board works closely with national agencies and organizations, as well as county administrative boards, regional museums and other local groups. The joint effort gathers and disseminates information about heritage and the historic environment, develops new working methods, and identifies innovative ways of exploring the relationship between human beings, their surroundings and society at large.

For more information, please check www.raa.se.

Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences

The Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences has the responsibility for the development of learning and expertise in areas concerning biological resources and biological production. There are four faculties: the Faculty of Landscape Planning, Horticulture and Agricultural Science, the Faculty of Natural Resources and Agriculture Sciences, the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine and Animal Science and the Faculty of Forest Sciences. The main campuses are located in Alnarp, Skara, Ultuna and Umeå.

The faculty of Alnarp is working in the field of horticulture, landscape, and agriculture. Its main goal is to develop knowledge about the interaction between man and environment, the working conditions of the green sector and the biology of the senses.

Alnarp is situated in the region of Skåne and the region of Oresund. Its location offers a multitude of interactions with other universities both concerning education and research.

For more information, please check www.slu.se.

Region of Skåne

Skåne is located at the southernmost tip of Sweden with Denmark, Germany, Poland and the Baltic States as neighbours across the sea. It is part of the transnational Oresund region and the historical region Skåneland (Terra Scaniae or Scania land).

Skåne is around 130 km long from north to south and covers less than 3% of Sweden's territory. Approximately 1 200 000 people or 13% of Sweden's total population lives here. The region is famous for its nature, long beaches, open landscape as well as forests and rocks. The eastern part of Skåne (called Österlen) is known for its many painters and a fantastic nature. Kullen, in western Skåne, is a nature reserve with lots of great sights and walking paths. The trade and industry in Skåne is concentrated in the sectors of life science, food technology, information and communication technology, logistics and film.

For more information, please check the map at the end of this document and the website: www.skane.se.

The town of Malmö

Malmö is situated in Skåne and is the third biggest city in Sweden. Here live around 270 000 people who speak 100 languages and belong to more than 160 different nationalities.

Malmö is a former industrial city that has become an international city of knowledge. Its strongest sectors today are logistics, retail and wholesale trade, construction and property. There are also a number of well-known companies within biotechnology and medical technology, environmental technology, IT and digital media.

Among Malmö's key points of interest are:

- Turning Torso – situated in the Western Harbour. With its 190 metres it is the tallest building in Sweden. It was designed by the Spanish architecture Santiago Calatrava;
- The Western Harbour – Malmö's new city district with modern architecture, lovely beaches, green spaces and a fabulous view over Oresund Bridge. The buildings are designed by several internationally known architects like Gert Wingårdh, Ralph Erskine and Mario Campi;

- The Stortorget (Big Square) – with the statue of King Karl X Gustav, who took Skåne from the Danes after the Roskilde Treaty of 1658. Stortorget was built in 1536 and was the largest city square in Northern Europe for a very long time;
- Kockska huset – situated on the Stortorget. This red bricks house is one of the best preserved 16th century buildings in Malmö;
- St Peter’s Church – the oldest building in Malmö, dating from the early 14th century. The church was built in “Baltic Brick Gothic” and is very similar to St Mary’s Church in Lübeck. The medieval paintings that covered the church vault were whitewashed during the Reformation in the 16th century, but the original paintings in the Tradesmen’s Chapel were successfully uncovered during a restoration in the early 20th century;
- Lilla Torg (Little Square) – Malmö’s most charming square and one of the most popular meeting places in the city. It was built in 1592 as a market square;
- Kungsparken and Slottsparken (Royal park and Castle’s park) – Malmö’s oldest public park that was opened in 1872 by King Oscar II. It was designed as an English park and has many exotic trees. The restaurant pavilion from 1912 is now a casino. Slottsparken is from the late 19th century. The Pegasus statue in Slottsparken is a work of Carl Milles.

For more information, please check the websites: www.malmo.se or www.malmo.com.

The Municipality of Lomma

The municipality of Lomma is situated in the west of Skåne on the coast of Öresund. In January 2008 its population was about 20 000 inhabitants. The venue of the conference, Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences-Alnarp, is located in Alnarp which is part of the municipality of Lomma.

For more information, please check www.lomma.se.

The Federation of Swedish Farmers

The Federation of Swedish Farmers (LRF) is Sweden’s only interest and business organisation representing those who own or work farm and forest land, and their jointly owned companies in the Swedish agricultural co-operative movement.

For more information, please check www.lrf.se.

The Swedish Environmental Protection Agency

The Swedish Environmental Protection Agency is the national agency for environmental protection and nature conservation as well as outdoor recreation and hunting issues. Its key tasks are to present proposals for environmental policy and legislation to the Swedish Government and ensure that environmental policy decisions are implemented.

For more information, please check www.naturvardsverket.se.

Swedish Road Administration

The Swedish Road Administration is the national authority assigned the overall responsibility for the entire road transport system. Its task is to co-operate with others in development of an efficient road transport system in the direction stipulated by the Swedish Government and Parliament. The administration has been commissioned to create a safe, environmentally sound and gender-equal road transport system that contributes to regional development and offers individuals and business community easy accessibility and high transport quality.

For more information, please check www.vv.se/english.

Swedish Board of Agriculture

The Swedish Board of Agriculture is the expert authority in the field of agricultural and food policy, as well as the authority responsible for the sectors agriculture and horticulture. Its responsibility therefore includes monitoring, analysing and reporting to the Swedish government on developments in these areas, and implementing policy decisions within its designated field of activities. One major task is the administration of the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) of the European Union. The Board shall also strive to promote rural development.

For more information, please check www.sjv.se.

Environmental Objectives Council

The Environmental Objectives Council was established to promote consultation and cooperation in implementing the environmental quality objectives adopted by the Swedish Parliament. It consists of representatives of central government agencies, county administrative boards, local authorities, non-governmental organizations and business sector. The Council is served by a Secretariat based at the Swedish Environmental Protection Agency.

For more information, please check www.miljomal.nu.

Swedish Forest Agency

The Swedish Forest Agency is the expert authority on forests and forest policy. Its mission is to work for a sustainable utilisation of the Swedish forests, in accordance with the guidelines given by the Parliament and the Government.

For more information, please consult www.skogsstyrelsen.se.

Participants

The Workshops are open to government officials, representatives of local and regional authorities, scientists, independent experts, public and private organisations as well as NGOs working on landscape and sustainable spatial development. The number of participants is limited to 300. The working languages are English and French.

The organisers would like to ask all participants and speakers for their co-operation during the whole meeting in order to ensure that everything runs promptly at the scheduled time.

Side events

- Visit to the landscape's laboratory, park and experimental garden of the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences;
- “Food and landscape“ – meals and nourishing traditions from Skåne.
- “Maximum Impact“ – future scenario experiments;

- Exhibit space during the whole meeting at the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences – poster presentations, book tables, etc. For exhibit space, please contact Mrs Nataliya HULUSJÖ, E-mail: nataliya.hulusjo@raa.se

Getting there

There is a variety of options to get to Malmö as the city lies at the junction of different international transport corridors (air, sea, motorway and railway). The recommended route is via Copenhagen.

By plane

In addition to the numerous national airlines, there are several low-price airlines that are flying from various European destinations to Copenhagen, Malmö or Gothenburg. Here are mentioned some of the opportunities.

To Copenhagen:

- www.airberlin.com
- www.brusselsairlines.com
- www.norwegian.no
- www.easyjet.com – via London
- www.skyeurope.com – via Prague or Vienna

The distance between the airport of Copenhagen and the city of Malmö is 35 km. When you get to the airport of Copenhagen, take the train to the centre of Malmö – there is a train every 20 minutes; the journey takes 22 minutes.

To Malmö:

– www.wizzair.com – via Warsaw, Krakow, Gdansk, Poznan, Wrocław and Budapest
There is bus from the airport of Malmö to the centre of Malmö; the journey takes 40 minutes.

To Gothenburg:

– www.ryanair.com

Gothenburg is 276 km from Malmö. When you get to the city airport of Gothenburg, take the bus to Nils Ericson Terminal – there is a bus corresponding to each flight; the trip takes 25 minutes. At Nils Ericsson Terminal change to another bus or a train to Malmö – the bus journey takes around 4 hours and the train journey around 3 hours. For more information about travels to Malmö, please check the websites: www.sj.se or www.swebusexpress.se.

By bus

There are several international bus companies that provide trips to Malmö and Copenhagen. Here are mentioned some of the opportunities.

- Säfflebussen, www.safflebussen.se
- Swebus Express, www.swebusexpress.se
- Eurolines, www.eurolines.com

By train

To Malmö:

There is a direct train to Malmö from Berlin. For more information, please check www.berlin-night-express.com.

To Copenhagen:

Several other opportunities to travel to Copenhagen are possible from other towns in Germany. More information can be found on www.bahn.de or www.sj.se.

By car

If you chose to take your car to Malmö, drive to Copenhagen and then take the Oresund Bridge or E20. Please consult also the maps at the end of this document.

Most of the hotels have parking but it is always good to check it in advance.

By ferry

You can get to Malmö, Trelleborg or Ystad by ferry from Germany and Poland. For more information, please check:

- Malmö-Travemünde, www.nordoe-link.se
- Trelleborg-Sassnitz/Rostock, www.scandlines.se
- Trelleborg-Travemünde/Rostock, www.ttline.se
- Ystad-Swinoujście, www.polferrries.se

Trelleborg is 34 km from Malmö. If you continue your trip by car, take first road E6 and later E22. Please, consult also the maps at the end of this document.

Ystad is 55 km from Malmö. If you continue your trip by car, take road E65. Please, consult also the maps at the end of this document.

If you want to take the train, please check www.skanetrafiken.se.

The Bus and Train stations of Malmö are one minutes walking distance from the centre where most of the accommodation can be found.

Meals

Lunches and official dinners on 8 and 9 October will be provided by the organisations hosting the event.
